

news flash! news flash!

The ArtExchange is being noticed -- because we are looking good, and traveling even better! We have been written up in places as close to home as western Canada, and as far away as many cities across the United States.

❖ Check out "Good times in Greece" in The Country Register, Alberta's creative community's bi-monthly newspaper (March/April 2001, p. 14).

❖ Or, read about creative travel - and the ArtExchange - in travel writer Judy Dash's syndicated article on "Art Adventures - Cultural Immersion through Creativity" most recently included in The Sunday Oregonian's Weekend Supplement (April 1, 2001, pp. T1, T2).

❖ Guess what? Others are catching up with us! Check out this April's Conde Nast Traveler "Aegean Gems: 5 Classic Greek Islands" by Patricia Storace (she of Dinner with Persephone fame). Tinos, our creative home for years, is one of her five "classic" islands, described by the author as "a staunchly Greek, not tourist island." We couldn't agree more!

❖ The ArtExchange was chosen as one of the top picks for European travel by the Editor of the GoNOMAD Alternative Travel Guide. Take a peek at: www.gonomad.com/alternatives/0105/rosenleafritter_altspicks.asp.

❖ Check out the May 2001 issue of the Journeywoman Newsletter -- we're in there, too! journeywoman@listwizards.com.

❖ Another of our destinations, the island of Syros, has been written up in the British edition of Conde Nast Traveler (May, 2001, pp.152-159) in an article entitled "Aegean With Dignity."
